

Erasmus+

Erasmus+

2015-1-RO01-KA102-0141625

Flux 1 - Malta

14-18 December 2015

The Principal of the Host Institution - Mark Ransley presents EEC - ITIS

Throughout the activity, for a week, we were introduced into how the institute works and what its principles are.

Through the experience exchange and the entire program we acquired and studied assessment tools used by the Host Institute, we compared these instruments with the ones used in our school.

Joe Attard, Chairman of the Malta Association of Hospitality Executives introduced us to the principles used in the management of a hotel.

Edel Cassar, the representative of the National Commission for Further and Higher Education, explained the accreditation process and training opportunities used by the Maltese system of education.

Darren Chetcuti, a teacher within the Institute, presented learning modules, basic elements and contents, methods used, as well as the serious innovative research whose purpose is to provide the students with knowledge that is in compliance with the market demands and which will be of used to them wherever they will be.

Overview of the teaching system

- The cycle is composed of four semesters
- Each semester is made up of two modules.
- Study units in each semester are therefore divided equally into two modules. Languages in semesters one and two run for both modules. Same goes for the internship in module 1.
- Semesters one and two consist of nine study units. Semesters three and four consist of 7 study units, including a dissertation in the latter.

We attended a Geography class, where we had the opportunity to observe the use of technological means in the teaching process.

Workshop

Workshop

Research methodologies used by EEC-ITIS for the generation of content for courses and assessment tools

- Crucial: remaining reflective of market needs and the current market reality (tourism trends)
- Desk research, qualitative and quantitative research and data analysis
- Policy development and analysis
- Methodological advice and guidance, particularly in applied and action research on political, social and economic issues relating to tourism and its core areas
- Information to the media and press statements on on topics concerning tourism and hospitality

Examples of Assessment Questions

- Study Unit: Business Skills
- With reference to case studies and examples discuss ways how thinking outside the box is a promising business skills. Highlight the benefits of creativity and originality in business.
- Discuss the nine views of intelligence and how these have an impact on business skills.
- What are problem-solving skills? Discuss their role in business alongside good teamwork and business project management.
- Outline how SME's could further grow within Europe's socio-cultural climate

Presenting assessment methods and our school's offer

Romanian
Cuisine

Maltese Specialty

Visit to the Institute of Tourism Studies

Visit to the Institute of Tourism
Studies

Assessment at the Institute of Tourism Studies

Coursework Assessment Food & Beverage Service

Student Name: Josmar Ferraz Student Number: _____ Sex: _____
 Lecturer: P. Silva Venue: Palma Semester: _____ Year: 2015/16

Week	Date	Notes	Grooming (1)	Uniform (1)	Punctuality (1)	Ways to please (2)	Service (2)	Soft Skills (2)	Customer Care (2)	Total Marks (10)	Lecturer's Comments	Lecturer's Signature	Student's Signature
Week 1
Week 2
Week 3	13-10-16	N								0	Absent
Week 4	20-10-16	N								6
Week 5	27-10-16	C								7
Week 6	3-11-16	C								6
Week 7	10-11-16	C								7
Week 8	17-11-16	N								6
Week 9	24-11-16	N								6
Week 10	1-12-16									0	Absent
Week 11
Week 12
Week 13
Week 14
Av. Mark

Ways to please / service: 0 - Poor, 1 - good, 2 - very good, 3 - excellent

ISSUED - Oct 2015

We were introduced to the textbooks used

Visiting the Study Kitchen

Visiting the restaurant

Trip

Visit at the Erasmus Office in Malta

